One of the unique things about The Faculty of Sharia' is that it teaches Law and Economics beside the Shari' Subjects.

Attending such great University allowed me to study and compare the Fiqh of the different schools of thought in Islam on the one hand, and to compare Allah's Law to the secular Law on the other hand.

Also, in this great University I was blessed to study the matters of Deen and Dunya under prominent Muslim scholars such as:

- 1- Ashaykh al-A'llamah Sidi Ahmed Al-Ghazi Al-Husayni Mufti of Morocco in his time (may Allah have mercy on him) that I was amazed by his mastery of Usul Ul-Fiqh.
- 2- Ashaykh al-A'llamah Sidi Abdul-Karim Addawdi Mufti of Morocco in his time (may Allah have mercy on him) who taught me the Criminal Law in Islam (Al-Houdoud wa Attaa'azeer).
- 3- Ashaykh al-A'llamah Sidi Ahmed ben Hammad Assaqalli (Mufti of Morocco in his time may Allah protect him) who taught me from the Explanation of Al-Bahjah a'la Attuhfah in Fiqh.
- 4- Ashaykh al-A'llamah Sidi Ahmed Lisan Al-Haqq (The expert in Economy may Allah have mercy on him) who taught me the Political Economy, and because of him I directed almost all my researches toward the Fiscal system in Islam.
- 5- Ashaykh al-A'llamah Sidi Mohammed Ibn Ma'jouz al-Mzaghrani (the great scholar of Sharia' and Law may Allah protect him).

6- Ashaykh al-A'illamah Sidi Ahmed Lahbabi may Allah have mercy on him.
